

Lonely Lives Brand Series

Created By William Lord Saint

I could not believe that despite the fact that I always did all my 'work', 'activities' and 'play' 'correctly' there was always somebody somewhere who always raised an 'objection' in anything that I did or undertook back then. I did not know why but I kept trying to 'do' and 'redo' all my endeavours or tasks to my 'satisfaction' sufficiently enough. At the end of the day all the 'tasks' that I did were 'moderately' or acceptably successful but my 'antagonists' never 'rallied' up to me or 'applauded' me.

2

When I felt that 'yes' I may have accomplished something my 'detractors' always looked for an 'escape' route for not wanting me to be correctly fulfilled I did not know this at the time of engaging in all my endeavours but I found out in The future that followed this that all the things I did in 'work' and 'play' did not matter that there were some kinds of persons living in the community that I lived in that had made up their minds that I mustn't be successful

3

I decided on my own initiative that I had to improve myself, I had to give (a) myself a 'new look' and a 'new career' that would improve me and (b) My Small Business a 'facelift'. To achieve this I used ordinary health foods bought at a health foods store to improve my physical body including purchasing equipment that I needed for rigorous exercise I undertook a new training in fields of study that I previously had interest in and I was correctly fulfilled. I also invested a proportion of any money that I received In my small Business This however did not 'trip' the people around me. I found out that they became more 'hateful' in their dislike for me in all the things that I did

4

I could not understand their reasons for a 'hateful' dislike, So I did my own private investigations and found out that I had previously been 'slaughtered' by known or unknown persons for reasons best known to the 'enemy or 'opposition'. I also found out that a lot of persons around me had had a 'rough' ride like myself when they were developing themselves in all 'facets' Of human endeavour. They had suffered 'rejection ' in many fields of human endeavour and were very happy to have been given a new' lease' of 'life'

5

So in effect when they saw me or heard of me They were not impressed one bit and wanted to find out whether I was correctly 'rewarded' financially for all the tasks that I had undertaken, Or whether I was just an 'unsung' individual who was exposed to 'dangerous zones' and damaged Afterwards. I suddenly felt that they may have been down the same 'road' I had been 'through' And some of them who were previously 'socially' personalities were no longer personalities and were now living lonely lives in some of our communities with the relationships that survived with them

6

Those group of persons were just one group Of persons living lonely lives in our communities Another group of persons I found out to be living lonely isolated lives were persons who previously never did stay at home for one day, They were always out and about everyday engaging work in various professions when all of a sudden were asked to stay at home because of the coronavirus disease said to be spreading all over the world so you have in effect people who could not do without 'mingling' for a single day forced to stay at home because of 'health issues'

7

Continuously most religious persons who usually went out on Sundays to their churches or their 'cell church' group meetings during weekdays could no longer do that and had to communicate with their fellow church members on Sundays using online facilities like 'zoom' this means that unlike previously when they met at church meetings or gatherings they no longer had the opportunity other than online communication without individual personal contact to communicate with themselves in a large way thereby bringing in some loneliness into their lives instead of

8

Of the close personal and regular contact they used to have at the meetings they normally attended 'house' to 'house' with themselves before the 'coronavirus' outbreak started or spread.

Loneliness is a 'let-down' and can be a 'down slide' for many people while some other persons who are not used to 'mingling with large groups and are quite happy to be away from other people may see it as an 'up slide' for themselves to improve themselves greatly without disturbance or 'envy' whichever way you look at it all these activities contribute to becoming a lonely lives brand

9

This journal was written by
William lord saint

Nationality

British citizen

Qualifications

Postgraduate qualifications in corporate governance